The Toronto Seduction Case.

TORONTO, Oct. 30.—The judgment of the church court of St. Paul's Anglican Church in the case of W. F. Johnson, of the Massey Manufacturing Co., seducer of Miss Taylor, agrees with what is already published. The court unanimously agreed that Taylor had received $800 as a compromise, but there was no proof that Johnson knew of the payment. Three of the committee of five found a verdict of guilty on the charge of seduction; while two believed in Johnson's innocence. It is understood Johnson's name will be erased from the rolls. Johnson will go to Australia. A well known Winnipegger gave Taylor $800 to settle the matter.

Smuggled Cattle into Canada.

OTTAWA, Oct. 30.—The announcement was made some time ago that a seizure of 335 head of cattle was made by Dr. Allan, collector of customs at Fort Macleod, on a charge of being smuggled into the Northwest Territories. Messrs. Conrad & Co. were the owners of the cattle. It was ascertained at the Customs Department today that the cattle were smuggled into Canada in 1886, and it was not until about two months ago that the Department of Customs was able to obtain sufficient evidence to effect the seizure. Messrs. Conrad & Co. have on several different occasions; heretofore, been charged with the offence of smuggling cattle into the Territories; and some three seizures were made by the Department, but each time the firm got off spot-free. In this instance about $1,025 was paid as a first deposit towards the penalty and duty. During the visit of Hon. Mr. Bowell, Minister of Customs, to the Northwest he agreed with the collector at Fort Macleod that this would be sufficient to settle the affair.

Attack Governor Royal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.—Ever since Lieutenant Governor Royal saw fit to read his speech in English instead of two languages the Rouge Caeter press in this province has been vying with each other in coarseness of their attacks on Governor Royal, but none has gone as far as L'Etendard which Monday evening laid the responsibility at the door of the Ottawa cabinet. Le Monde in reply last evening said: "We do not know why the Governor failed to read his speech in both languages, but we know from competent sources that no instructions whatever were given him from Ottawa in the matter."

A Man Almost Buried Alive—He is Recovering.

La Minerve says a shocking occurrence happened in a neighboring parish a few days ago. Aguste Archambault, who has been treated for bright disease, but who got no better, fell backwards and his physicians pronounced him dead. He was kept two days and many relatives and friends accompanied the hearse to the church and grave. The coffin was lowered and the process of filling in the earth was in rapid progress when some one thought he heard a moan. Everyone listened and to their horror the moan came from the grave. Hastily the coffin was raised and on removing the lid, a live man was seen struggling for breath. Two physicians were summoned and succeeded in restoring the man to consciousness. He is now doing well.

Lepine's Return From Europe.

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.—Ambrose Lepine is in town on his return from his European trip and he leaves for Regina tonight. In reference to the abolition of the French language he said that the strife was breeding and the people were beginning to talk loud just as they did in 1870. He said he would do his best to assist in a peaceable and constitutional agitation and would oppose all kinds of violence. He said that though condemned to death at the end of the rebellion of 1870, he never counselled taking up arms and this will be his policy when he gets back. He believes in agitating, though peaceably.

Sir Adolphe Caron stated today in an interview that at the next session of parliament steps would probably be taken to have the militia system extended to the Northwest Territories.

MONTREAL, Nov. 1.—Mr. Shaughnessy speaking of the withdrawal of the present line of China and Japan Steamers, said the C.P.R. had received no such notification as alleged. It was possible there would be a change in the way in which the steamers were run.

FOUNDED.

Stanley Heard From.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Mr. McKinnon has received the following advices from Zanzibar: Letters from Stanley, dated Victoria Nyanza Aug. 29th have been received. Stanley had with him Emin H-y, Cassal Marco, a Greek merchant, O-m-a Effendi Hussein, a Tunisian apothecary, Sirir Nelson, Jephson Quirk Bony and 800 people are accompanying him toward Mpwapa. All were well. There were reports that Madella has been taken by the Mahdists.

The first meeting of the Cabinet this season will be held next Friday, when it is supposed that the programme of the Government for the forthcoming session of Parliament will be outlined.

Stanley's dispatch to Mr. McKinnon says: "We have reached Albert Nyanza from Banjils for the third time in 140 days, and found Emin and Jephson, both of whom have been prisoners since August 18th, 1888. Troops in the Equatorial region revolted and shook off their allegiance soon after the Mahdists invaded the province in full force and the natives joined the invaders. Stanley found a letter for himself near Albert Nyanza exposing the dangerous position of the survivors and urging the immediate necessity for his immediate arrival before the end of December. He arrived there on January 18th and waited a long time for the fugitive to come. Mr. McKinnon says the committee has ordered that supplies be pushed on to Mpwapa and beyond if possible to meet Stanley, who is expected to reach the Coast in January or February."

The Mackay Libel.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The libel suit of Mrs. John W. Mackay against the Manchester Guardian came up in the court of Queen's Bench today. That paper had said that the plaintiff was a poor widow with two children, and was employed as a washerwoman by Nevada miners when Mackay fell in love with her and married her. The plaintiff asserts that the article suggested that she was not a lady by birth or education, and that she was not accustomed to associate with persons of good position. Defendants admit the first innuendo but deny the second, and the question was whether £10 paid into court by the defendants applied to the whole libel or to the admitted innuendo. The court ruled it applied only to the part admitted.

WHAT IT COSTS TO MAKE BUTTER

An Authority on Dairy Matters Talks
About the Cost of Butter Per Pound.

Quite frequently up springs some man who proceeds to tell us what it costs to make butter. No sooner has he subsided than some other fellow declares that the first is all wrong. As we view it, says Hoard's Dairyman, the cost of producing a pound of butter must depend on so great a number of ever varying conditions that the experience of no one man can be taken as a guide for others. There are, however, two primary principles which govern everywhere.

1. The cost of butter per cow will at ways be affected by the amount the cow yields. For instance, if a cow yields only 100 pounds a year, the cost per pound in some respects is more than double of that obtained from a cow that yields 200 pounds. The item of labor, stabling and to a considerable extent feed also, is nearly, if not quite, the same with the first cow as with the second.

2. In terms of cows the cost of butter per pound is affected by the size of the herd. Ten cows producing 200 pounds each, in a season, will require the same machinery and even that will a herd of twenty having the same relative production per cow.

Two thousand pounds of butter will cost more per pound, in many particulars, than 4,000 pounds. The proportion of cost will also be varied greatly by the perfection and handiness of stable and dairy house. A Mr. Hopkins of Buffalo, N. Y., with a herd of fifteen very fine dairy cows that produced an average of 200 pounds per cow, says in The Country
Gentleman that his butter cost him 11 cents a pound to produce that which sells for an average price of thirty-five cents.

Another dairyman says his figures are all wrong, and that it costs him forty-four cents a pound the year round. We would not wonder if it did. Take some of these foolish dairymen who really prefer a cow that will yield 125 pounds to one that yields 200 pounds, and we doubt not they are paying a cost of thirty to forty cents for all they get. It takes from $30 to $40 to keep even such low down cows a year; and a return of only about a hundred pounds of butter makes the article cost dear. In all these fine points it takes brains to figure where the profit lies. Not one farmer in one hundred can tell today what his butter costs, or the cost per gallon of his milk product. As business men this should not be.

Agricultural Notes.
Lovett's White is the name of a new peach which is said to have yielded annually in certain eastern states where most other varieties have failed. It is claimed that it is the hardiest white peach yet produced. Its season is very late. The color is a pure white; size very large; it is a long keeper; the quality is sweet and excellent. The flesh parts from the pit perfectly.

Wood ashes are largely used by farmers as a top dressing for meadows.
Spread at the rate of about fifty bushels per acre.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1909.
MINING NEAR CALGARY.

Mr. Peter McCarthy has just returned from the Rocky Mountains, where he has been in the interest of the Galena Mining & Smelting Company, composed of Messrs. Alexander, McCarthy, Longhead and Bowen, of Calgary. This company has received from the Dominion Government a grant of 320 acres of land at Golden and have decided to erect their smelting plant at that town, instead of at Field as at first intended. This change will give the company control of the mines at Field, as well as making the rich mines up the Columbia and at Hellelawest convenient to their works. Having already purchased all their plant including a 40-ton smelter, the company will early in the spring commence the erection of their works at Golden. We are informed by Mr. McCarthy that there is a larger amount of work being done this fall in developing the mines mentioned than at any other period. One firm having contracted to furnish 150 tons of ore to the Hellelawest Smelting Company by the 1st of December. Messrs. Oster & Hammond, of Toronto in connection with Mr. Law, of Golden, are extensively working their copper mine on Jubilee Mountain about 27 miles up the Columbia from Golden. Within the last two weeks anthracite coal has been discovered on the line of the C. P. R. in the Kicking Horse Pass, about two miles from Golden specimens of which were shown to Mr. McCarthy by Judge Vowell, of Donald, which were very fine. There has also within the last week been discovered within two and a half miles of Golden, iron ore in large quantities and on Friday last a large body of men commenced work on the same. Taking it altogether Mr. McCarthy is of the opinion that the prospects for mining in British Columbia were never so bright as at present.

PLAYING FOR POSITION.

Perhaps our religious friends will excuse us for using a phrase which may seem to smack a little of the gamblers' vocabulary, to express our ideas on important transpiring events in the town. But if they don't excuse us we will take refuge behind the shadow of St. Paul, who though small in stature was tall in learning and deep in piety, and yet in his illustrations of "Christian Warfare" found it right and proper to adopt the language and phraseology descriptive of Olympic games and Oriental races, for the purpose of conveying more clearly to the churches to which his epistles were addressed, the true intent of his meaning.

What we refer to in our heading of "Playing for Position" is the eagerness of the two Electric Light Companies and the Bell Telephone Company to get the "whip row" each over the other in planting the poles to carry the wires of their several systems on. Each one professes to have no desire to interfere with or obstruct the other, but they each want the best place all the same. Why if it were the King of Hades disputing with an Archangel about the body of Moses, he could not be in more dead earnest than these shrewd fellows are about who shall get there first. The special difference in this case being that they are all as innocent as angels. But what does the struggle mean, is there any lesson to be learned from it? We think there is. These men are the representatives of great companies, which have witnessed and studied the growth of towns and cities, in what is called the "far west", yet far east of Calgary. It is not the question where they shall place the requisite number of wires for the present use of the town business, that is troubling them, they are "playing for position." All this stuff about not bringing the wires nearer than 40 feet of each other and one wire seeking the electrical current away from it is sheer humbug. One might as well talk of a self seeking its mother forty feet away on the prairie. These companies understand that the wires they are putting up now are but leading strings of the net work which must in the near future be put into use in our town. When their wires will be numbered by hundreds and thousands instead of units and tens, then we will be able to understand what the present playing for position meant.

Lord Brassey said to us the other day when he saw the long lines of new poles going up. "Why don't you make these fellows put their wires under ground the same as we are doing in England?" We explained that it was not for want of duly appreciating the advantages of having the wires under ground that they were not being put there, but simply because the cost of putting them there in the proper way, especially the cost of tubes to run them through, would be so great here, that it would make the cost of light and sound more than a struggling young community could afford to pay, and probably at the end of ten years we could better spare the money to do the work at the greater cost than at the smaller cost now, and that we had to creep before we could walk. We casually remarked to the English capitalist that if they could arrange for Calgary to get some of their four per cent money for public works, it would do more good than all the four per cent beer that a Senator could import or a Colonel spill in a month of Sundays.

WHISKEY SPILLING.

The people say and it is generally believed that large quantities of whiskey are seized and destroyed by the Northwest Mounted Police at and about Calgary as well as at many other places in the Territories by order of the Government at Ottawa. What the quantity and cost of this liquor is, we are not in a position to say. There should be some record of it which the people could learn the facts from, and possibly there is. It is not the special right of the Mounted Police to know this, the public have a right to know it. We have no quarrel with the Mounted Police as a body, not with any of the officers or men in particular, nor do we lose any proper opportunity to speak in terms of commendation of the force which was wisely organized by the Government and whose services have been of immense benefit to the vast country over which they are scattered. But with the system of seizure and spilling liquor as it is now carried out, we have a quarrel. We are not going to argue on the temperance question at all, but simply say what we have always believed and said that alcohol drinks to be used as a beverage are not in our opinion necessary to mankind. It seems to us however that the question of temperance does not figure much in the case under consideration. Liquor is brought into the country in very large quantities, some of it under permit, but much more, we think, under the smugglers' wings; and more than this, there seems no probability of the smuggling being stopped. It is out of the question for the Mounted Police to get onto it every time, no matter how vigilant. The ex-convicts of the Old Countries have never been able to stop illicit manufacture and sale of whiskey. There is no use fooling with the question in these Territories, and some rational law capable of being worked out must be enacted at Ottawa or at Regina by power vested in the legislature from the Ottawa Government.

But pending such steps being taken as will place the country under a stringent license system and punishing the educating the people by the advocates of total abstinence, up to the point of doing without the drug altogether, we believe it to be the duty of the executive at Ottawa to put an end at once to the farcical drama that is being enacted every day in our midst. There are places not far distant where liquor is not contraband, where the liquor seized here could be sold without the violation of any law and the money received for it applied to some charitable purpose. If current rumors be anyway near true there must have been from $2,000 to $3,000 worth of liquor spilled within a very short time past in Calgary, or at least a quantity that would have sold for that much whether it was worth it or not may be another question. Now suppose that instead of spilling that whiskey on the ground it had been sold in British Columbia and the $2,000 used to begin a fund for building an hospital in Calgary or a training farm for Indian boys or any other useful or charitable purpose, would it not be better than pouring it out on the ground. It is not at all likely that one glass more of whiskey would have been sold in British Columbia if the late seizures had been sold there than as it is. There would simply have been less made or imported and Calgary would have been a little better off. It is high time that the authorities at Ottawa would look this liquor question in the Territories square in the face. In the meantime let no more whiskey be spilled. It would not take Mr. John more than an hour if he will set his mind about it to devise a plan for the disposal of seized whiskey and the application of the proceeds to a general hospital fund for the Territories. Alberta wants a live Senator at Ottawa who combines a knowledge of this and all other questions affecting the Territories, both from an Eastern and Western stand point.

SHAKESPEARE.

Why do live men and women worship Shakespeare? It may be replied that he is not worshipped, but that his works are admired because they more truthfully portray the inmost workings of the human mind than do the writings of any other man. Perhaps so, but before it is admitted that he is not worshipped, it must first be decided what worship means. If a man reads and admires the writings of Shakespeare more than he does the inspired word of God, we hold that he worships Shakespeare more than the Creator of both he and Shakespeare. The extent to which the works of the sage of "Avon" are read needs no proof. If proof were wanting we would only have to refer to the statement made by Bengough's ideal chair man, Mr. Dundreary Pull Ball, who is represented as quoting from Shakespeare, of whom he says most of you have probably heard or read. But in what manner does Shakespeare come most frequently and most forcibly to the front? Is it not in his tragedies? When does the manager of a great theater calculate on the boxes and front seats being first filled, is it not when some of Shakespeare's blood and murder plots are to be put on the boards by a tragedian who has won his fame by his ability to imitate the sound of murder, as though he himself were a murderer at heart? Do not men excel either in writing or acting out that which is uppermost in his breast? Why is it that the Swedish acts of Jack the Ripper are read with such avidity and relish wherever the English newspapers go, it is not on account of a morbid love for that which is low and brutal? Why was it that when we had the sensation in her midst of a young squaw coming to her death in a most revolting manner, the courthouse was crowded to suffocation during the trial? Why was it that the Calgary newspapers which only contained a synopsis of the harrowing details, were bought up like hot cakes and telegraphed for in hundreds all over the country? Was it not the same depraved instincts which makes men and women who claim to be the pink of refinement, love to witness the bloody drama on the stage. Suppose instead of publishing the reports of the tragic case of last March, we had published a well digested article written by one of our ablest divines on the principles of love and good will to men, inculcated in Christ's sermon on the mount. How many extra copies of the Herald would have been sold? What use has Shakespeare been to the world? How miserably he compares with "Wat" to whom the world owes what figures cannot compute or the human mind comprehend. What a filippine Shakespeare is compared with "Hessemer" whose discovery in fusing steel has revolutionized the railroad world. And so we might go on with a long list of the names of men who have worked out the application of electricity in such marvelous ways for the use of man; the names of men who have discovered continents by the use of the needle and founded Empires. But we don't worship these men, and why don't we? Just because we rather love the man who pictures in words the working of the human heart, which is "desperately wicked" till it reaches culmination in shedding his fellow blood. Shakespeare may have been a good hand at taming rabbits, but that was practised for his own amusement, probably to keep himself from trying some of his tragic ideas on his own person. Suppose he had tried his hand at taming an Alberta prairie horse instead of rabbits, which would have been some use to some body, we think he would have come out second best, and that some of our Calgary broncho busters would bust Shakespeare all to nothing.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

REGINA, Monday Oct. 25.

A discussion of the dual language question occupied the whole of this afternoon, which was decidedly the most interesting sitting of the session.

After some minor matters had been disposed of the House went into committee of the whole on the following memorial, brought in by Mr. Cayley on a special committee on the subject:

To His Excellency the Governor-General and to the Honourable the Senate and Commons of Canada:

The Petition of the Legislative Assembly of the Northwest Territories in session assembled humbly sheweth:

Whereas by Section 110 of the Northwest Territories Act it is enacted that, "Either the English or the French language may be used by any person in the debates of the Legislative Assembly of the Territories and in the proceedings before the courts, and both these languages shall be used in the records and journals of the Assembly and all Ordinances made under this Act shall be printed in both these languages."

And whereas this Assembly is of opinion that the sentiment of the people of the Northwest Territories is against the continuance of the section recited, on the grounds that the needs of the Territories do not demand the official recognition of a dual language in the Northwest, or the expenditure necessitated by the same;

And whereas this Assembly is also of the opinion that sound public policy demands the discontinuance of the two official languages in the Northwest;

Therefore your petitioners humbly pray: That the said section 110 of the said Act be repealed at the next session of Parliament.

Mr. Cayley, who was in the chair explained that the question had been held over several days in order that Mr. Justice Rouleau might be present.

The Judge wanted to know why the House proposed to ask for the abolition of the French language.

Cayley was called on to explain and in the course of his remarks he gave the history of the enacting of clause 110, referred to the agitation in Manitoba, said in his own district (Calgary) was about unanimous in asking that the dual language be done away with, and requested other members to express their sentiments.

Mr. Thorburn thought the sentiment of the people was decidedly against the continuance of the section under discussion. Mr. Mitchell asked what harm the French language did. What were their objections to it? Did the Assembly want to take from the old pioneers of the country the right to their own language? There was no common sense in the thing at all.

Mr. Richardson said the petition was based on the unanimous opinion of his constituents. They wanted one language, one nationality. This question was brought up in the Northwest Council before it was organized in Manitoba.

Here Mr. Mitchell interposed and said they were taking away rights. His constituency (Batoche) didn't want a over of Babel, but they wanted a fair play.

Mr. Justice Rouleau then ably defended his side of the case. He wanted them to allow the question to stand until the next elections and let it be decided at the polls. It was no matter of nationality as had been asserted, but a matter of convenience. He spoke French long before he spoke English, but he was as good a Canadian as any of them. He loved the Queen as loyally as any man. Language did not make nationality. There were 60 million people to the south of them who spoke the English language, but they would not be called Englishmen. So with the Irish and Scotch. Ask the Province of Quebec to choose between the French Republic and the British Empire. There would be even a majority for France. French Canadians are loyal. Their certificates are signed with their blood. (Cheers.) He referred to the great number of people unable to read English and to Dalton McCarthy's visit to Calgary, (referring to Dalton as "a good lawyer, but a poor preacher.") If they wanted to perpetuate the French language, they had only to try to coerce the French speaking people. As to the expense, that came to only $1,000 a year. It was no argument at all. There was something behind all this. Some people wanted to get slap at a certain class. (Cries of no, no.) French Canadians were not in the same position as Russians or Germans. They had a right acquired by centuries and also by the treaty of Paris. The Judge made a long speech and argued his points very ably.

Mr. Sutherland said he represented a mixed community, but was in favor of the petition.

Mr. Haultain took a similar stand and replied to some of the Judge's arguments. Mr. Oliver made a tolerant speech, showing, however, that he was strongly for abolition. He enforced the view that the Assembly should be under no restrictions.

Mr. Neff spoke for abolition. If a vote were taken in Moosemin there would not, he believed, be a dissenting voice.

Mr. Ross followed in a similar strain, but said he would be very ungrateful if he did not consult the interests of the Half-breeds who voted solid for him.

Mr. Tweed spoke very enthusiastically for the one nationality idea.

Mr. Betts said one-fifth of the people of Prince Albert, Kindred and Hadsell could read neither French nor English. Mr. Hoey was for waiting. If this dual language was such a big boom, why didn't members point out the evils? On a vote being taken on the adoption of the petition, two against seven was the result. Messrs. Brett and Clinebkill were absent.

The House adjourned at 5:30.

REGINA, Oct. 25.

As you were informed by wire the resignation of the Advisory Board was handed in today. Although this appears at first blush a momentous announcement, there are no indications that it will cause a crisis in the history of the country, nor is it likely that the even tenor of the government will be at all interrupted with. Under the Act His Honor is the sole executive power and an advisory board is merely a link between the executive and the House, and whose duty it is to carry information to the House and to give advice to the Lieutenant-Governor when he sees fit to ask it. It is probable that another quartette will be selected by His Honor at once. Meanwhile legislation goes on as before.

Today separate schools were discussed. Mr. Richardson's opening address was replied to by Mr. Justice Rouleau, who announced himself as the interpreter of the minority, and he in turn was criticized by Messrs. Oliver and Betts. The vote was not regarded as an expression of opinion against separate schools, but merely as in the case of the dual language, asking for power to deal with the question.

MR. HAULTAIN'S SPEECH WAS:

I have to announce on behalf of the Advisory Council that we have tendered our resignation to the Lieutenant-Governor and that His Honor has been pleased to accept it. While acknowledging that the government of the Territories has on the whole been carried out in accordance with the position taken up last year, we have been reluctantly forced to resign because we are unable to accept responsibility for several executive acts. Having been elected by the Assembly we have always clearly appreciated our responsibility to the Assembly and have been duly sensitive to the criticism of the body without whose confidence we could no longer exist. That criticism has been on the whole fair, but there has been a tendency on the part of members to criticize us rather than the system under which we are working, and to attempt an unfair comparison between a patently imperfect and unsatisfactory system and the ideal one which they wished for. We yield to no one in the desire for a fully responsible government, but are keenly alive to the practical duty of the hour, to make the best of the existing state of affairs. We believe that our resignation will tend to clear the atmosphere and that our successors will have a comparatively easy task. So long as their policy is on a line with the main ideas of full control and full responsibility, we can assure them of our loyal, hearty and sympathetic support.

REGINA, Oct. 30.

On the assembly of the House today Mr. Lunnham introduced a bill on mortgages and sales of personal property.

Mr. Purritt moved for a special committee to prepare an ordinance on elections.

BETTS ON SCHOOLS.

Mr. Betts, in explaining his bill to amend the school ordinance, said he proposed to decrease the number of members on the Board of Education, to co-act with the Catholic section, giving the power of erecting separate schools to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, instead of the Governor alone and to effect a better sweeping changes. He said the Board of Education was not worth the $500 per member which it cost to bring them to Regina. The grant for educational purposes cost too much for administration.

Several members opposed the second reading of the bill, partly because the school committee intended to bring in a similar measure and partly because the present ordinance has not been in operation long enough for its efficiency to be judged. On a vote being taken it was defeated by 18 to 3.

The mechanics' liens bill was advanced and Haultain introduced a bill to give married women a right to their own property, after which the House adjourned.

REGINA, Oct. 31.

The House sat today little more than half an hour.

Mr. Cayley presented a recommendation from the committee on standing orders that all petitions be laid before the committee before being presented to the House. This is on account of irregularities which have occurred in petitions. Cayley gave notice of motion on the question.

POLICE OFFICERS AS MAGISTRATES.

Universal expressions of approval greeted Mr. Haultain's notice of motion that the granting of magisterial powers to police officers is wrong in principle and productive of evil in practice.

Mr. Tweed gave notice of motion to refer the papers connected with Beirson who district to his Honor's legal adviser for the purpose of ascertaining whether any of the parties connected therewith can be prosecuted.

The births, deaths and marriages bill was advanced, also the Medicine Hat hospital mechanics lien, and hawkers and pedlars bills.

Mr. Haultain introduced a long bill to provide for the expropriation of lands for public purposes.

House adjourned.

REGINA, November 1.

Mr. Speaker took the chair at the usual hour. A long report presented by Mr. Thorburn on immigration was ruled out of order as affecting expenditure. It will be re-introduced in different form.

The Committee on Standing Orders recommended that the proceedings of each day be cyclostyled and distributed and Mr. Cayley gave notice of a motion to that effect.

Mr. Richardson withdrew his proposed resolution on four per cent, which you have already published, he having discovered that it was not in order. According to Burinot the House cannot pass a resolution, reflecting on the Lieut.-Governor about matters over which the House has no control.

On motion Cayley and Haultain the rules were amended in accordance with a report recently adopted with regard to the introduction of petitions.

Messrs. Tweed and Cayley moved that the papers relating to the Roman Catholic Separate School District of Beirson (near Edmonton) be referred to His Honor's legal adviser for an opinion as to whether legal proceedings can be taken against any of the parties connected therewith. Carried.

Messrs. Haca and Clinkskill moved for a return on prairie fires; also for all papers relating to the calling of tenders for painting the G. & N. and certain blank forms.

A CALGARY BILL.

The bill to incorporate the Calgary Water Power Company, (limited,) was read a second time and Mr. Cayley made a lengthy explanation, the effect of which was that while on the one hand his constituents desired to encourage the company in their project, on the other hand they did not wish to give to the company a monopoly which might keep out other capital. The bill was referred to a special committee consisting of Messrs. Haultain, Oliver, Brett, Cayley, Lineham and Mr. Justice Rouleau as legal expert.

The bill amending the births, deaths and marriages registration ordinance was sent through committee of the whole; also the Medicine Hat general hospital incorporation bill and after disposing of other important business the Assembly adjourned.

A large session of the Council.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held in the town hall at 8 o'clock last evening. His worship, Mayor Marsh and all the councillors were in their places, the city solicitor, E. P. Davis, also being in attendance. The first business was reading the minutes of the last regular meeting held on the 15th of October, which were adopted without discussion. The report of the treasurer, Mr. S. Barber, was next read and adopted.

A communication was read from H. S. Cayley, Esq., M. L. A., now at Regina, asking the Council to express an opinion on the bill now before the Legislature, asking for the incorporation of the Calgary Waterpower Company, (limited.) One of the wits of the council suggested that the last name in the title of the bill was a misnomer, as it covered the Northwest Territories up to the summit of the Rockies. This matter was laid over at the moment and dealt with in committee of the whole at a later stage of the meeting.

A letter was read from E. H. Rogers, chief of the fire brigade, recommending the payment of the account of Lewis Earle for three months service as fireman on the steam fire engine. The recommendation was agreed to.

A letter was read from Mr. Harris, asking to be appointed to take charge of the town markets and scales. Referred to Geo. Murdoch, chairman of markets and health.

An offer was received from Mr. J. A. McKenzie to take the earth covering off the large tank at the corner of Oiler street and Atlantic avenue and replace it with double cover, leaving an air space, and otherwise put the tank in thorough repair. As the tank at the corner of Scarth and Stephen avenue was repaired for the sum of $205, the offer was accepted.

The executive and finance committee reported that only $74.84 had been spent out of the $100 placed at the disposal of Mr. A. D. Braithwaite in connection with the Governor General's visit. It was resolved that an order be drawn on the treasurer for the said sum of $74.84.

A letter from J. D. McLaughlin was read offering to move the town scales from the C. P. R. land to the market ground and put them in proper position for the sum of $50. This was agreed to.

A numerously signed petition was read asking that the engineer of the fire steam engine be not discharged and that he be not compelled to do certain things that had been asked of him, not directly connected with his duties. This was laid on the table, as the report of fire, water and light dealt with the same matter.

The report of fire, water and light was then read by chairman Grant, setting forth that the engineer expressed himself willing to perform all the duties asked of him and recommending that his services be continued. The report stated that the engine is in perfect order and all the appliances for fighting fire are in good condition. It further recommended that the offer of the Bell Telephone Company to put in a night service and put on 4 electric alarms in such outside parts of the town as the Council may suggest for the sum of $25 per month, be entered into for the remainder of this year. Any continuance of the contract to be subject to the will of the next Council.

On the question of electric lights for the streets, it was recommended that so soon as both electric companies are ready to supply lights, tenders be asked for not less than 30 or more than 40 street lights. The service to cover all expenses of repairs, in fact the whole cost of the light to the town. The report was adopted.

The committee on police and relief reported having given some assistance to two poor women on section 16, and asking for authority to grant such further aid as was necessary, which was granted.

The bylaw empowering the Mayor and clerk to enter into final agreement with the Calgary Gas & Water Works Co., for putting in water-works passed first and second reading. The third reading being held over till next meeting to have some unimportant mistakes in the wording corrected.

The committee on ways and means reported in favor of building a sidewalk on Stephen avenue from where it now terminates for about 2000 feet westward. In reference to the other sidewalks asked for, the committee report that the Council have not the ways and means at their disposal at present to construct them.

The executive and finance committee reported in favor of asking a reduction in the taxes of Messrs. Lee & Brealey on the Alberta Hotel block on account of it not having been completed so as to bring in any revenue at the time of assessment. They also advised the payment of the following accounts:

James Smart.....	$ 10.20
E. Haultain.....	10.20
J. Fraser.....	1.40
Salaries.....	275.00
Electric light.....	70.00
Police and relief account.....	72.80
Cal. Lumber Co.....	855.05

The Council resolved itself in a committee of the whole to consider the Calgary Water Power bill. Councillor Orr in the chair. After a lengthened discussion the following resolution was passed in committee: "Moved by D. W. Marsh, seconded by J. G. Fitzgibbon, and resolved that the Calgary Water Power bill be considered beyond the jurisdiction of this Council and that we are of the opinion that there are objectionable features in the bill, but do not feel ourselves called upon to go thoroughly into the details of the exclusive monopoly privileges, amongst other clauses, as it is not objectionable." The committee rose and reported, when it was resolved by the Council that the report of the committee of the whole be adopted and that copies of their resolution be forwarded to his honor Judge Rouleau and our members Messrs. John Lineham and H. S. Cayley, now at Regina.

The Council adjourned at 10:45 o'clock.

A November Sunset.

The Sunset of Sunday, November 3rd, as seen at Calgary was beautiful in the extreme. Probably there is no place in the world where an Autumn sunset may be viewed through the clear air to such advantage as on the eastern slope of the Rockies in Alberta. Calgary appears to be situated just at the right distance to get the full benefit of the mirrored effulgence of a golden sunset. The hundreds of miles of snow clad mountain tops which for reflective power knock the light giving properties of all the quicksilver in the world into the shade. Placed by the hand of the architect of the universe in the position best calculated to give back the rays of the king of day when leaving us to be for the time buried behind the granite walls of that majestic range of mountains which rise in unmeasured stature to the west of our city. The effect last evening was sublimely grand, and it did not cost anything either. Had the hand of man undertaken to make such a display, a dozen Chicagoes would have had to be set on fire at one time, and hundreds of millions worth of property destroyed, leaving only the charred remains of vanished cities to mark the lost home of departed glory, while our big looking glass is still there just the same as it was, ready to repeat the show at any time. Why did Webster or Worcester not live till the present, so they could come to Calgary and write a new Lexicon in order that some faint idea could be conveyed to the dwellers in misty old England of the bright skies, clear atmosphere and brilliant sunrises and sunsets which we enjoy, where so short a time ago only the Redman and the buffalo roamed in this insurgent air.

Wedding Notice.
[From Thursday's Daily.]
The Church of the Redeemer last evening was the scene of a fashionable wedding. This time we had the pleasure of seeing our popular townsmen, Mr. Thos. N. Christie, of the firm of Le Jeune, Smith & Co., Bankers, Calgary, united in the holy bonds of wedlock to Miss Mabel Edna Gouin, eldest daughter of Mr. C. L. Gouin, Crown Timber Agent. The congregation assembled to witness the ceremony a little before nine o'clock just after the evening service. The service was conducted by Rev. A. W. F. Cooper, assisted by the Right Rev. Lord Bishop of Saskatchewan and Calgary. The latter part of the service being clearly and impressively read by His Lordship.
The bridegroom, who was supported by his cousin, arrived a few minutes before the bride. The bride was attended by her sister Miss Clara Gouin. She was given away by her father. The bride was dressed in white corded silk trimmed with white silk bows, and was the admiration of her friends and congregation. The mother of the bride, who looked as pleasant as a mother could on such an occasion, wore a black silk dress, with white antique lace. We wish the happy couple much joy.

Lucas vs Branan.
At the assize before Judge Ross at Sarnia, Tuesday, the case of Lucas vs Branan came up for hearing. The suit was for the payment of a note on demand, made in July, 1885. The defence was a rent account for $1,500, for Fawcett's banking office, here, of which Lucas was manager, from 1879 to 1884; and minor accounts amounting to $600. The claim for rent was not entertained by the Judge, and judgment was given plaintiff for $475 and full costs, thus allowing defendant $225 for claim of $600.—Alvinston Free Press.

CHASING A SHADOW.
Excitement at the old Fawcett Bank Building.
Many of our readers have good cause to remember the failure of the Alvinston branch of Fawcett's bank, a few years ago, and the subsequent mysterious disappearance of the principal books of the concern. This left it impossible to determine what was the exact state of the bank's affairs, and the estate was wound up without a definite knowledge of the claims of depositors and others. But being the case, imagine the excitement in our town Saturday afternoon when the news became circulated that these books had been found in the cellar of the old bank building. In less time than it takes to tell it a small army of citizens gathered about the building, where they found Constable Fitzpatrick in possession, armed with a writ of replevin, and who was proceeding to remove the boxes containing a mass of old papers and books to the office of the Clerk of the Court. Mr. Alex. Lucas, who was also present, explained that two years ago he asked permission of Mr. Branan to store these books and papers in the cellar, but when he had come to take them Mr. Branan refused to give them up, and he had been obliged to take legal steps to secure the same. He admitted that the books were not being used, used when the bank was first started here in '79, and that it was a matter of that date he wished to obtain to use as a witness in the present suit between himself and Mr. Branan—believing that the book would prove that there had been a rent account between Mr. B. and the bank, and thus relieve Mr. Lucas of a responsibility for the $1,500 rent claimed of the building. The crowd, having made up their minds that these must be the "buried" books, could not be reasoned into even permitting the constable to remove them to the Clerk's office, and as a last resort watchmen were appointed to guard the treasures. Mr. Branan proposes to store the books in the vault and have the key placed in the hands of some responsible parties, who may desire, to inspect them, but also claims rent for the three years' storage. Mr. Lucas accepts the proposition, but objects to the payment of rent.—Alvinston Free Press.

AFRICAN EXPLORATION.
Sir Francis De Winton, late Governor of the Congo State, says that in spite of the scores of explorers who have traversed Africa in all directions since Livingstone began his travels, the larger part of the many millions of natives have never yet seen a white man. As we trace the routes of explorers on the map we see that their tracks make merely a network over Africa, and that there are enormous unvisited spaces between these lines. As yet we can only infer what large regions and the people who live in them are like from the reports of perhaps a single traveller who has hurriedly passed through the country.—N.Y. Sun.

AN AUTHOR SHIPS BEFORE THE MAST.
Hans Jaeger, one of the cleverest authors of Norway, has accepted the place of a common sailor on one of the Scandinavian ships. Lone residence in the capital and close study of the lower classes of society, which he loved to write of in his books, have also undermined his health, forcing him to adopt another profession. Altho' his hands were soft and his head was covered by a worn out silk hat when asking for a place before the mast, his powerful frame gave the captain confidence in him, and secured him the place. It is said, however, that he will devote his few leisure hours in finishing his new novel. Much interest is now taken in his career, as it was not generally known that he was so poverty-stricken.—London Letter.
